Testing Sites Closed due to COVID-19

Within the past 24 hours, the US Centers for Disease Control (CDC) have issued updated guidance on measures to be taken to reduce the spread of the COVID-19 disease. In particular, the CDC lowered the number of people that should be able to congregate in the same space from 50 to 10 in the United States. Given this new guidance, our testing partner, Prometric has determined it is necessary and appropriate to close test centers in the United States and Canada for a period of 30 days, starting today on March 17. This dramatic step is necessary in order to comply with this new federal guidance as well as to further protect the health and well-being of the individual test takers and the staff that provide services at each of our testing locations. Prometric anticipates re-opening test centers effective April 16, however, please note that the specific date will be dependent on circumstances that are changing daily.

The Medical-Surgical Nursing Certification Board is working with Prometric to implement remote proctoring to provide candidates the option of testing from home. More information will follow soon.
